FBC LTD, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****. Excerpt from The University of North Carolina Record: December 1908; President's Report Curriculum During the past year many changes have been made in the Engineering Courses. These changes have already been published in full in the university record Number 64, and will be incorporated in the next general catalogue of the University. Their effect is a material strengthening of each of the courses. In all of the new courses the general policy has been to eliminate the electives which characterized the former courses and to prescribe the subjects in each course; the election lying now between the several engineering courses, while the work in each course is fully specified. An important change has been the introduction of Chemistry 1 into the Freshman year of all the engineering courses. By this change time and opportunity are given for more special courses in the higher classes. A course in expository theme writing, English 3a, has been added to supplement the practice obtained in writing reports of laboratory work.
