Createspace, United States, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 203 x 127 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Martin Luther s Concerning Christian Liberty is considered by many to be Luther s seminal work which encapsulates Salvation by Grace through Faith alone as a rallying cry that shook the world of his time. It s a remarkable short work and it s two sections are demarcated by it s opening lines, a Christian man is the most free lord of all, and subject to none; a Christian man is the most dutiful servant of all, and subject to everyone. This of course is pretty much a restatement of Christ s paradoxical statement, He who would be the greatest among you, must be the servant of all. The first section, related to faith, is of course, the strongest message related to Luther and in many ways the reclaiming of what characterized the Gospel of the early Church but which over time, had been laden with tradition, reason and experience to where the key message of the gospel was all but drowned out. Luther ties the message back to Scripture and the Word of God, which Luther rightly doesn t separate from the person of Jesus Christ. The Gospel message is brought strongly with a separation from the works and indulgences of Luther s day that had replaced the simple truth. Luther expands upon the three great virtues of faith. First, faith gives us true Christian liberty: we are free from the law and works. Second, faith honors God because by believing His promise it truth and righteousness are imputed to Him. So to not believe the word of the gospel is to make God a liar. Third, faith unites the soul to Christ. Believing in Christ is...
